Ultimate Nuke

Halo
 Ã’ Wow !Ã’ said Cortana as they entered reach and itÃ•s inhabitants. Masterchief gaised into the ground below to find any lost marines that hadnÃ•t made it into a leaving pelican. The Covenant had threatened to blow it up with a nuke. Masterchief had to find the ship. He was in fact driving a pelican already so he headed for one of the covenant battleships. He gazed into the dark, black space. He awed in amazement. The marines had successfully destroyed a covenant starship. But unluckely it wasnÃ•t the one with the controls. The one with that had it was several sectors away. But he knew he had to find it so he went on.
> After two more days stuck on the pelican he went on. Then he came to the ship. It was two sizes bigger than the one that the marines had taken out earlier. Look for the next chapter today!
